

MacLeod House

Afternoon Tea

The History of Afternoon Tea

Anna, the seventh Duchess of Bedford, is reputed to have introduced the tradition of taking afternoon tea in the early 1840's. She requested a pot of water, cakes, bread and butter to appease her appetite in the long hours between early lunch and late supper. The Duchess is said to have shared the idea with friends and by the end of the decade afternoon tea had become a widespread social event.

Here at MacLeod House we are delighted to continue the tradition by serving freshly cut sandwiches, homemade scones, and savouries, along with a range of cakes, pastries and a selection of fine teas.

Sandwiches

An assortment of fresh breads served with

Chicken Caesar salad

Honey roast ham & Monterey Jack cheddar croquet monsieur

Loch Fyne smoked salmon, dill crème fraîche & pickled cucumber

*

Savouries

Pork, apple & sage sausage roll

Seasonal veloute

Quiche Lorraine

*

Fresh Homemade Assorted Scones

Plain & fruit scones, fruit preserves, butter & Chantilly cream

*

Cakes & Delicacies

Fruit cake

Chocolate & orange ganache tart

White chocolate & coconut madeleine

Banana & toffee bread

Pistachio & strawberry slice

*

Teas

Selection of fine teas from around the world

Traditional Afternoon Tea £29.00

Champagne Afternoon Tea £39.00 (glass of Champagne on arrival)